

Workplace giving – your chance to transform lives

Workplace giving is a simple way to donate directly to McAuley Community Services for Women.

Donations come from your pre tax salary. With the combined contribution of employees from organisations across Victoria, your donation will have a huge impact on women and children who are escaping family violence and who are homeless.

Your monthly gift – of any amount over $10 – will directly support our services, which include accommodation, support for women and children, education and employment.

Here are some ways that your monthly gift could make a difference:

- $10 for children's books for a family staying in a long term refuge
- $20 for a family to purchase toiletries
- $25 for a birthday present for a woman who is homeless and living temporarily at McAuley House
- $50 for a haircut for a woman at McAuley House

About McAuley Community Services for Women

McAuley Community Services for Women provides safe housing, tailored support, education, and children's programs for women and their children who are escaping family violence and for women who are homeless, many living with mental illness.

We operate the only 24/7 accessible safe house in Victoria.

We also run Engage to Change, an employer education program, to teach employers and staff how to recognise family violence in the workplace, and where to go for resources and help.

How workplace giving helps us

- The certainty of regular giving enables us to plan better by providing stable funding for our services
- Reduced administrative costs because we receive only one payment from each organisation each payday and do not have to issue individual receipts to donors
- Ensure that every cent possible of your gift will go directly to help those in need.

The benefits to you

- An immediate, guaranteed tax deduction for your gift each pay period
- Your employer will pay the amount you have authorised directly to us
- A complete record of payments from your employer at the end of the financial year
- Knowing you are making a real difference.
